

FLAWLESS SIGNALS. LIMITLESS EXPERIENCE.

LINDY, THE BACKBONE OF BIG-STAGE SUCCESS

SIGMA System Audio-Visuell is a German AV integrator based in Düsseldorf, specialising in high-impact, media-technology-driven experiences for global brands and corporate clients. Positioned at the intersection of event technology, audiovisual integration, and interactive media, SIGMA delivers cutting-edge solutions for trade fairs, conferences, and immersive brand environments. In the corporate sector, SIGMA designs and integrates state-of-the-art conference rooms and collaborative work environments that combine technology with intuitive functionality for inspiring designs. Their portfolio spans from innovative showrooms to large-scale production studios for multinational clients such as Vodafone. Since every project is bespoke and event-based, SIGMA relies on reliable AV connectivity to guarantee stability and performance—needs that are met through Lindy's premium connectivity products.

THE CHALLENGE

SIGMA designs and delivers technology-driven experiences where reliability is critical. From press conferences with global live streams to immersive showrooms or perfectly functioning conference rooms, every project depends on seamless AV connectivity. The company faces three core challenges: maintaining flawless signal integrity across complex and often expansive venues, ensuring compatibility between diverse AV hardware for quick and efficient integration, and operating with zero tolerance for failure as even the smallest disruption during a live event or meeting is not an option.

LINDY'S SOLUTION

Lindy provides the perfect connectivity backbone for SIGMA's most demanding projects, combining reliability, performance, and flexibility to ensure flawless operation even in complex live environments. With an extensive portfolio of high-quality cables, converters, and repeaters, Lindy enables seamless interoperability across diverse AV systems, allowing SIGMA to integrate cutting-edge devices into professional infrastructures with ease. By relying on Lindy's premium solutions, SIGMA consistently delivers stable, secure connections that meet — and often exceed — the high expectations of global brands across every bespoke installation and live event.